The Knightly News

Every remarkable experiment starts with curiosity. From bacteria to bubbles and bioenergy to wind energy, our 5th- and 7th-grade students shared their thought-provoking questions, innovative hypotheses, and hard-earned results at Faith Academy Bellville's 12th annual Science Fair.

Student investigations spanned a wide range of topics, including plant growth, sports and heart rate, bacterial elimination in soaps, and horse blanket insulation, with each project a testament to their creativity and scientific thinking. The displays themselves were stunning, but equally impressive were the questions these students asked about the world, and the thoughtful, methodical ways they set out to answer them.

Behind every great science fair project is a great teacher. Ms. Carrie Deering (5th grade) and Mrs. Beth Elberson (7th grade) dedicated months to this process, beginning in January and seeing students through to their finished display boards in late March. They guided each student through the scientific method, making sure they understood each stage and that every milestone was documented.

As Mrs. Elberson said, "The Science Fair is an opportunity to share ideas, learn cool things about our world, and recognize God's wonder in all things."

Mrs. Elberson acknowledged that this project takes patience and problem-solving. And when things didn't go as we expected, students leaned on perseverance to try again, sometimes several times.

The 5th-grade projects were judged by a former science teacher and a business owner, while two retired nurses judged the 7th-grade projects. Each student presented their experiment, which included a question, a hypothesis, a Biblical application, materials, process, and of course, results and conclusion. Judges went beyond the display boards and engaged students in detailed questions that assessed their understanding of the full scientific process.

On Thursday, March 26, the winners of the Science Fair were announced to a room of proud and eager students, families, teachers, and staff. First through third place were presented with a 3D printed award created by the Faith Academy Technology Club. And the winners are:

5th grade: 1st place: Ila Hargrave — "The Germiest Place",
2nd place: Shiloh Horsley — "Don't Worry! Which Self-Watering Plant Grows the Most",
3rd place: Gibson Schroller — "The Best Soil for Radishes"
Honorable Mentions: Tori Davies — "The Home Composter" and Corbin Stodder — "Which Soap Kills Bacteria the Best"

7th grade:

1st place: Cahill Krumrey — "Bio Generator"
2nd place: Alivia Haley — "Sourdough, the Tale of Two Flours"
3rd place: Wyatt August — "Wasted Chicken Feed!"
Honorable Mention: Talia Davies — "Sip & Stain"

Competition has its place, but we believe encouragement does too. Students and attendees of the Science Fair were invited to leave notes of support at each display station, small gestures that go a long way in affirming the effort, creativity, and perseverance behind every project.

We couldn't be prouder of our young scientists and the curiosity they brought to this year's Science Fair. At the heart of it all is gratitude to God, who created a world so magnificent, and to our curious and creative students who are courageous enough to explore it.

DID YOU KNOW?

Congratulations, FAITH ACADEMY OF BELLVILLE families... your 1st Day School Supplies store is now open. Yes, it feels early. And that's actually the point. Ordering now means you can check school supplies off your list before summer even begins. No scrambling in July. No store runs in August. Just the exact supplies teachers requested, handled in a few simple clicks. It only takes a few minutes to select our school and choose your child's grade. Everything will arrive packaged and ready for the first day. There's something nice about heading into summer knowing one big thing is already done.

SAN FELIPE de AUSTIN

— STATE HISTORIC SITE —
San Felipe, Texas

From Ms. Brittany Guardia.....

The 5th-grade class recently had the wonderful opportunity to visit San Felipe de Austin, the colonial capital of Texas, and they wanted to share their thoughts with everyone about what they learned while visiting this incredible Texas Historical Commission site.

From the 5th-grade class:

We all had an incredible time visiting San Felipe de Austin, the colonial capital of Texas. Some of our favorite things that we learned included information about Stephen F. Austin's first immigrant colony in Coahuila y Tejas (one of the newly established Mexican colonies under the Mexican Constitution of 1824), the saga of the Runaway Scrape of 1836, and what life was like for the Texian pioneers living in Colonial Texas. We would like to share our favorite facts with you! Aria Villarreal wanted you all to know that "I learned that Stephen F. Austin's middle name is Fuller! We should use it more often!"

Cambry Courville and Miranda Lapham stated, "'The Runaway Scrape' was my favorite thing to learn about! I learned that the people had to burn their own town to the ground so that General Santa Anna and his army could not use anything. Sam Houston ordered the town to be burned." All of our students enjoyed learning about the Runaway Scrape in the beautiful San Felipe de Austin Pioneer Museum, but thought that it was also very sad how they had to watch their homes be destroyed by the flames.

Emily Feiertag and Grady Ward said, "my favorite part was learning about the 'Texas Toothache Tree,' and how the citizens of San Felipe de Austin chewed on the leaves and bark of the tree when they had any mouth pain or toothaches. We also learned that the town did not have a dentist, so the local blacksmith had to yank their teeth out with a hook!" The students participated in a "naturalist scavenger hunt," locating many useful elements in nature and Gibson Schroller said this was his favorite part! Tori Davies said "it was so interesting to see how many useful things we could find on our scavenger hunt!" The students were also shown how the leaves of the Yaupon Holly tree can be dried, roasted, and used to make a caffeinated tea. Colette Hyslop, Giselle Schulte, and Ellie Kate Cameron all loved learning about the Yaupon Holly and how the colonial residents used to call it their "colonial coffee."

The students also had the opportunity to learn to bake molasses cornbread in Miss Celia's (a former slave who sued for her own freedom) kitchen with the help of our history guide, Miss Nicole. Celia's case was held in San Felipe, and William Barrett Travis was her lawyer! Zachary Sharma and Knox Reynolds loved the baking station and said, "We learned how to 'decipher' colonial recipes and translate them into modern recipes! It was fun learning to bake in the colonial kitchen!" Mayson Araoz said, "I loved learning to make the old-fashioned cornbread that the colonists called 'Indian Cakes.' They were delicious!"

While visiting the print shop, we observed how newspapers and legal documents were printed in the early 1800s. We used the printing press to create replicas of William B. Travis's letter from the Alamo, declaring "Victory, or Death!" Shiloh Horsely wanted everyone to know that "we learned their printing press worked so well and so quickly, that the townspeople thought it was by magic!"

Ila Hargrave loved learning that our use of “upper case” and “lower case” came from how the larger and smaller print type letters were stored in “upper” or “lower” cases, with the larger letters in cases above the smaller ones. We also learned that the original papers used for legal documents were made from cloth towels imported from Germany!

The students learned that because of a lowercase “k” print type letter found near the remains of a brick chimney, the archaeologists knew where to rebuild the print shop! Getting to use the printing machine and being Mr. Mark’s “printing apprentice” was Corbin Stodder, Wyatt Waxler, and Dash Garza’s favorite part!

We all learned a lot about the colonial history of Texas and the importance of San Felipe de Austin to our freedom and independence from Mexico. Long before Washington on the Brazos became the hub of Texas independence, San Felipe was already on the “road to the revolution!”

The 5th-grade class wants everyone to know they should make time to go out and visit San Felipe de Austin.

Let's Tie a Bow on 2026 Night of Knights!

The 28th Annual Night of Knights was full of glitz and glamour as we celebrated Valentine's Day and God's love for everyone as shared in I John 4:8b: "God is Love." We are deeply grateful for the support from parents, faculty, staff, and the community as we raised funds to deliver on our commitment to provide a Christian education at an affordable price.

Thank you to everyone for making this year's event a huge success!
